Just FYI... we were looking at today's raw data from ML-03 and the max conc. was 0.6 ppm at 10:34, may want to double check for us. It might be yesterday's VOC readings on today's summary table. Looks like today's VOC readings are lower. Thanks, Ashley

Subject: Summary Report

Hopefully won't happen often, but please rush the data file and summary report as much as possible today... since they are doing the first indoor monitoring today, ADH wants to see last nights results as early as possible...
